

- INTERACTIVE & IMMERSIVE
- PERFORMATIVE RPG
- ROLL & WRITE GAMING
- FOR AUDIENCES OF ANY GAME EXPERIENCE LEVEL

Imagine putting tabletop roleplayers - some of whom are skilled entertainers and others who are new to the hobby - in front of a willing audience to provide them with an evening of grand fantasy adventure. Oh wait... that's already been done!

So... what if the audience gets to participate in the adventure in some way where each table in the venue has a simple roll & write game to play at their leisure during the adventure. Each of those RnW games represents a location (such as the tavern or the mayor's mansion) at the locale where the RPG characters are adventuring. The results of each RnW game would have the potential to help, hinder or influence the characters during their escapade!

Welcome to Roll for your Empire, an immersive and interactive gaming experience from Layman Kingsford and Cheeky Dingo Entertainment. The setting is the unique fantasy world derived from the creator's published novels and board games. The original RPG system is designed to be both easily accessible and open to broad imagination without the need for ponderous volumes of rulebooks. The roll & write games are simple and intuitive so no previous gaming experience is needed for the audience to seamlessly join in.

With the visibility and popularity of today's board and roleplaying games, the goal of this project is to help lower the perceived barrier of entry into the hobby while engendering fun, creativity and live entertainment in any public or private venue. It strives to illustrate how anyone can jump into the hobby without any previous experience. All they need is a willingness to participate and a safe and inclusive space to try it out where friendly, passionate, knowledgeable people can guide them through the experience.
